Appendix I.

(Vide answer to Starred Question No. 16 on page220. )

(a) When a person dies in the hospital, the hospital authorities should immediately report the fact to the nearest relative mentioned in the records of the deceased patient. The dead body, which is not claimed by any of the relatives within 24 hours in cases where the nearest relative is a resident of the same district, or within 72 hours when he or she is a resident outside the district, will be handed over to the authority in charge of a teaching medical institution for purpose of conducting anatomical examination and dissection. Before this is done, the local head of the religious denomination should also be given an opportunity for claiming the body for disposal according to the custom of the community concerned.

(b) and (c) It has been reported that the dead body of one Abdul Sait who died in the Government Stanley Hospital, Madras, on 29th August 1962 was not claimed within the prescribed time, that the Police reported that the deceased was a destitute and that his identity could not be established. His address was not available in the hospital case-sheet also. The body was, therefore, sent for post-mortem examination and later to the Anatomy Department on 30th August 1962 evening. Only on 31st August 1962, one clerk of the Muslim Social Association enquired about the deceased, but before that, action had already been taken as mentioned above.
